What's New In NetDVD?

For $14.95 you can own your own DVD drive for a netbook or laptop, without any hardware changes or cost of a new DVD drive. NetDVD allows you to view and share any DVD movie, audio CD and game from your Windows netbook or laptop. With NetDVD you can play the DVD movies on your Windows netbook, laptop or desktop PC on your couch at home. NetDVD can take a DVD movie you rented from a cinema and burn it to a CD or DVD for you to save. NetDVD can even be used to install applications you purchase from the internet! NetDVD solves the following common problems for netbook and laptop users: No CD or DVD Drive Want to play a DVD movie on your netbook or laptop? No CD or DVD Drive Want to burn a CD or DVD with a DVD writer but don't have one? No CD or DVD Drive Want to burn a CD or DVD on your laptop or desktop PC? No CD or DVD Drive Want to install software from the internet? No CD or DVD Drive You can purchase NetDVD in the following retail stores: Barnes & Noble Radio.Shack Wholey.com Microsoft Store Software and Computer Connection Use any of the above stores to purchase NetDVD for your netbook, laptop or desktop PC! The major problem I encountered was that my webcam took much longer to load than it had in the Windows XP. I think this is because Windows 7 uses DirectX, while XP used something else. I fixed the problem by downloading the latest version of Windows Live Video, and configuring it to use the same codecs as Windows XP. Additional Problems I also have some additional problems. My program can not automatically launch when I start my computer. I also have three programs - IP Control Panel, Remote Desktop Connection and Check Router/Windows Updates that launch in Windows 7 but not in Windows XP. I think the most troublesome problem I have is that my mic is not working. It's not even close to usable. I suspect this might be due to either a bad connection from the sound card to the microphone, or a bad microphone itself. How to find out if your mic is defective or not? To find out which sound card you have: Right-click on my computer icon in the bottom right of the screen. Select "View my computer properties". Select "Device Manager
